

Philadelphia

SPECIAL EVENTS AND PROMOTIONS

ON THE SCENE PHILADELPHIA

COLLINGSWOOD RESTAURANT WEEK

From July 31st through August 3rd, South Jersey's food mecca was booked solid as Collingswood, NJ celebrated its 2nd Annual Restaurant Week. Visitors "dined around the world in 5 days" as various restaurants served up signature, prix fixe menus for only $30.

1. The stage is set as early arrivals hear the night's specials at Bistro di Marino.
2. Chef Mark Smith delivers one of Tortilla Press's decadent desserts to Rick and Darlene Schofield of Collingswood.

HARU

On Thursday, July 27th, HARU, Old City's acclaimed Sushi and Japanese fusion restaurant, celebrated its 1-year anniversary with over 200 guests. HARU, located at 241-243 Chestnut Street, reveled in its successful first year with signature cocktails, specialty dishes and live music by Philadelphia's own DJ Brendan Bring 'Em.

3. Sara Stabile, publicist for HARU, and Michelle Eaton, event coordinator for HARU.
4. Guests pose for the camera at HARU's 1-year anniversary party.
5. HARU Marketing Specialist, Vivian Fong with Tram-Anh Tran, pose for the camera at HARU's 1-year anniversary celebration.
6. Haru chef displays award winning sushi prepared for guests.

PHILLY TALKS! AT THE CONSTITUTION CENTER

For the first time, Philadelphia magazine offered guests to go behind the scenes with the jury that makes the decisions for the "Best of" format. On July 26th, Philadelphia magazine staffers Larry Platt, April White, Tom McGrath and Jessica Blatt offered their insight on the infamous Best of Philly® legacy at the National Constitution Center.

7. April White, Tom McGrath and Jessica Blatt of Philadelphia magazine.
8. Tony Green of the National Constitution Center and Larry Platt, editor of Philadelphia magazine.